BIO

Biljana Gjoneska works as a Research Associate at the Macedonian Academy of Sciences and Arts (MASA), where she binds the explorative and applicative research in the domains of Social and Cognitive Neuroscience. She holds a medical degree from the Faculty of Medicine (“Ss. Cyril and Methodius” University in Skopje), and a doctoral degree in psychology and social neuroscience from the Faculty of Medicine and Psychology (“Sapienza” University of Rome).

While her research at “Sapienza” involved the area Social Neuroscience (with special emphasis on Neuropolitics), the research conducted at MASA revolves around the area of Cognitive Neuroscience (with emphasis on Neuroinformatics and Neuroethics). Of special interest to the COST PUI Action are her early explorations in the Neuroinformatics domain focusing on the link between the brain electric oscillations and cognition, as well as the Q-EEG specifics and the impact of the modern-day technologies on healthy adults and patients with cystic fibrosis, epilepsy, ADHD and autism spectrum disorders. Within the scope of this Action she would also be interested to investigate the social psychology aspects of excessive internet use, with special emphasis on problems arising from social media use (like moral disengagement, moral panic and moral outrage).

Dr. Gjoneska’s work is documented in more than dozen publications and several international projects (funded by EU FP7/ESF/Horizon programmes) where she often served as national representative. In addition to her excellent proficiency in English and the South Slavic group of languages, she is also fluent in Italian, and has basic understanding of French.
